2007 FWC at work

Two years ago, the Florida State Employees' Charitable Campaign (FSECC) planning committee for the FWC Northeast Region was brainstorming fun ways to encourage FWC employees to contribute to the worthwhile campaign. One idea was an employee photo contest with an entry fee that would go toward the campaign. We created categories, found a qualified judge (senior photojournalist Doug Engle from the Ocala Star Banner) and we were off and running!

Despite our late start promoting the contest, the idea was an instant winner. The first year we raised about $150, but in 2006, FWC photographers were ready and submitted 237 photos which raised almost $700 for the FSECC.

Doug Engle judged the contest both years and was impressed by the quality of work the FWC photographers produced. Not only that, the agency discovered a new source of high quality photographs for its many publications.
